Biggest Threat to Moscow Removed By Soviet Troops

MOSCOW, March 6 (AP)—The red army stormed Gzhatsk, 100 miles west of Moscow, today to wipe out the biggest threat to the Soviet capital and one which the Russians had been trying to remove for a year and a half.

A special communication announcing the fall of the town was issued on Monday with another which said the supreme Soviet had made Premier Stalin marshal of the Soviet Union.

When Gzhatsk was in German hands, the Russian high command always had to consider seriously the chances of a German breakthrough through the capital while the city was engaged in protracted offensives on other fronts.

Now the strong hedgehog has been removed and the Russians can devote a high of effort and spare troops for other operations.

The next objective is Vyazma, 35 miles southwest of Gzhatsk, and then Smolensk, 220 miles west of Moscow.

Later a midnight Soviet communiqué reported by the Soviet monitor in London reported that the red army had killed 100 more Germans and captured several dozen prisoners in the continuing sweep southwest of Riazan toward a point on the road between Vyazma and Smolensk.

(Gzhatsk was bypassed by Russian units on the north and south sides. It was stormed by the Red army last night, and the German infantry regiment was wiped out after fierce fighting.

On the south, the Russians reported further gains west of Sevsk in an effort to cut the main Bryansk-Kiev railway which links the central and southern fronts.

WMC ORDERS ALL FARM LABOR TO STAY DEFERRED

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The war manpower commission today issued draft boards tonight to keep farm workers in deferred classification—even if the quotas for the war effort cannot be met.

The commission also issued three other new instructions designed to help meet the farm labor shortage.

1. Any man with farming experience who is now in other work should be classified as a farm worker.

2. State and county war boards of the agricultural department may request the deferment of a necessary farm worker even though the work is not seasonal.

3. If a draft board finds that a farm worker is not producing enough to justify his deferment, it may refer his case to a county war board and allow 30 days for him to be in another job before he can draft him.

Output Fixed
To gain a deferment a farm worker is required to produce a minimum output fixed by formulas prepared by the agriculture department.

4. If a draft board finds that a farm worker is not producing enough to justify his deferment, it may refer his case to a county war board and allow 30 days for him to be in another job before he can draft him.

Scene of Jap Naval Defeat

American Fleet Forces and Liberators, assisted by Australian and Dutch planes, wiped out the last man—a Jap convoy en route from Rabaul to Salamaua and Aor, New Guinea. Here is the scene of the action. The Japs were dispersed in a hazy "X" after a two-day action. The Japs lost 22 warships and transports, 15,000 troops and more than 60 airplanes.

U.S. Task Force Penetrates Japs' Outer Defenses

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—A navy task force slugging into the outer limits of the Japanese defense zone in the south Pacific bombarded shore installations at Vila and Mundu in the Solomon Islands Friday night, the navy reported today, and sank two large enemy destroyers which tried to interfere.

The destroyers were units of a squadron of light Japanese surface forces which a navy communiqué said "attempted to drive off our bombardment group." A battle resulted. No United States ships were lost.

The communiqué said the task force penetrated the Japs' outer defenses, which were thought to be the last line of defense in the Solomon Islands.

LORIENT, ESSEN, BREST ATTACKED IN ALLIED RAIDS

By The Associated Press

German naval bases at Lorient and Brest in France were attacked by American Flying Fortress and Liberators, respectively, yesterday afternoon, a few hours after British and Canadian bombers carried the allied aerial offensive against Germany through the 10th straight night by pounding Essen, site of the great Krupp armament works.

The American planes were escorted by RAF and allied fighters and an official communiqué said three bombers and two fighters were lost in the twin operations.

Bombs rained down for 40 minutes on Essen in Friday night's saturation raid which cut the RAP (Reich Air Production) to a minimum.

"Excellent" Results
The communiqué described the results as "excellent" at Lorient, where a naval port station and aircraft bridge were among the objectives hit. At Brest the results were termed "satisfactory."

Slashing Attack Seen as Opening Showdown Fight

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 6 (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel hurled his Afrika Korps at the British eighth army today in a savage onslaught possibly marking the start of the showdown battle for Tunisia.

Rommel's columns struck out from the Mareth line at dawn against the army of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery that had hounded the Nazis nearly 2,000 miles along the Mediterranean from Egypt. It was the first offensive by the Germans against the eighth army since Rommel failed in an attempt to break through at El Alamein in Egypt.

ONE MUST BE TOP GUN

A New York bank has received word from important clients in Stockholm that a small but influential German underground movement, failing to interest either Washington or London in peace feelers, is now trying to get to Moscow. The proposal, said to be transmitted to the Kremlin, is that in order to end the slaughter the Reich will come to terms with Stalin. The Germans admit that they have more in common with the Soviet system than with the Anglo-American democracies.

Certain well-informed Swedes say they believe the true scope of the conflict is not understood in the United States; that both radicals and moderates in Berlin are obsessed with the idea that the outcome of the war so far as they are concerned must be a two-fold result: 1. End forever the small states which have persisted for centuries by unification. 2. Either the U.S.S.R. or Germany must be top dog of Europe. The neighbors cannot remain enemies; one must accept the domination of the other.

According to this theory, the conflict with Britain and the United States is merely a side show, the big issues are between Berlin and Moscow. Peace between them is necessary because of Europe's inability to feed itself properly through the Moscovite bread.

Anti-Hitlerites are supposed to have offered these suggestions to Stalin and promised delivery of the continent as full-fledged republics in a Greater Soviet Union.

But this theory does not take into account Russia's treaty with Great Britain; her people's hatred of the Nazis for killing so many Slavs; and the ability of any group inside the Rhineland to upset the Brown Shirts and control the destiny of Europe.

THE NET SPREADS

The great majority, having no part in the income tax process, used to have small sympathy for those supposed plutocrats who complained about its intricacies. Those days have gone forever.

Millions of millions in lower income brackets were made taxpayers, and had to prepare returns. For many the way was made easy by the optional form for $3,000-and-under incomes. Nevertheless, these became conscious that there were complications in tax-paying.

Now, however, a whole new army is about to learn at first hand about another phase of the situation. Every family that pays a malted as much as $500 a year, whether by the day, the day or the hour, has to keep books and return the payments on the proper treasury form. Every family that pays as much as $12 a month rent must decide whether the recipient is "an individual, a resident fiduciary or a resident partnership," if it is a real estate agent or a corporation. If not the former, the latter, the designated form, must inform the treasury what he has paid and to whom.

The next time there is demand for simplification of government procedure, it will not be confined to the filthy rich. There will be voices from the rank and file.

THERE IS NO PARITY

From the quarter-pint-sized pamphlet "Your War and Your Wages," published from the OWI and available on request to the division of public inquiries, we quote:

"There is no parity for a leg lost in a torpedo campaign broadside at a tanker. Equality of sacrifice is a yardstick for use at home."

The OWI did not add: Soldiers, sailors and marines have no 35-hour week and do not get the overtime pay that the factory workers get for overtime wages. It would go hard with a fighting man who stayed home the morning after, to soak his liquor-addled head. Men don't have to pay initiation fees to fight in "vacations" for soldiers who do not like the next man in the ranks, or who think their officers are too tough, and who can't support their families on $50 a month.

PRUSSIAN GENERAL

Herr Goebbels now has something about which to brag. One of the two American field armies is commanded by a Prussian-born general, Walter Krueger, whereas the commander of the other, General Eisenhower, is far removed from his ancestors' Germanic origins.

There is quite a lot right with us. Not only is General Krueger's Americanism beyond question, but he has proven himself to be a soldier's soldier, a prime student of military history and strategy, a tactician of the first rank. He is one of those generals who knows how to be hard-bodded so that his men love him.

If there are any other German-born officers of Krueger's caliber, by all means let's send them to the fighting zones as fast as we know how.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

FAVORABLE—The House foreign affairs committee has conducted an investigation of lend-lease operations and possible commitments in consideration of the measure for reauthorization of the program. It was the first inquiry into behind-the-scenes relationships.

The department spokesman, Assistant Secretaries Adolf A. Berle, Jr., and Dean Acheson, admitted that the committee had not written promissory or concessional, immediate or postwar, in return for the advance. No detailed report of payment has been discussed or negotiated. They emphasized, however, that almost every beneficiary will have offsetting credits to the account.

When the books shall be finally balanced, Debtor nations have furnished housing, food, clothing and other facilities to our soldiers overseas. In fact, the officials gave the impression that the amounts owed their Sam will be rather small if the war lasts several years more.

Incidentally, it had been suggested that London agree to the appointment of General Dwight D. Eisenhower as United Nations generalissimo in North Africa, a partial reward for American generosity. But "like's" elevation was not a fit for all.

The bill was submitted to the lower chamber with a unanimously favorable vote. But it took more than a week for committee members to write the accompanying report. Delay was due to Republican difficulty in obtaining the views of the Senate. After opposing it until a check on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941.

INFLUENCE—President Roosevelt has retained James Lawrence Fly as chairman of the board of war communications to the face of the removal from the navy department for his removal from that strategic agency.

Although extraordinary pains to conceal this clash have been taken, it will probably be exposed during the investigation of the federal communications commission which Mr. Fly also leads. For the chief of the committee was formerly in the White House as Mr. Fly's close friend of the late-Grover. He also sponsored the resolution of the committee and has managed the examination of the FCC and BWC records. It is known, however, that P. D. R. has not even seen the Wilson letter of protest, written in April, 1942.

High naval officers object to Chairman Fly because he is alleged to have been a radical in the past. Specifically they point out that in organizing to cooperate with the board of war communications he has given as acquired a reputation as he has to representatives of government and industry. The Knox sides do not believe that the committee will be able to do its job properly.

Note: Rear Admiral E. C. Cooper, radio officer in the office of the chief of naval operations, wrote the suit-filing for Mr. Lawrence. As a result of the FCC manager's influence, Admiral Cooper was immediately shifted to a minor post in the naval aviation district (Chicago). When Admiral William D. Leahy was named White House adviser, Cooper was transferred to New York on an assignment of more consequence. He and Leahy were Annapolis classmates.

GAME—President Roosevelt appears to have turned the other cheek besides a deal over congressional assistance of certain industries. He has not taken on Capitol Hill. So far he has not lifted a finger to have members of the White House family from political life.

When angry legislators demanded from Henderson's head, he gave it to them on a platter and did not budge. He has not lifted a finger to have members of the White House family from political life.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

ZEALOTS—Unhated military authorities warn that unless the Indian deadlock is broken we cannot expect a successful outcome of the war in Japan. It would be utterly futile to risk the lives of hundreds of thousands of American soldiers in Burma and China if the subcontinent is not under our control.

The issue has reached to the point where the military authorities are now in a position to make a decision. The issue has reached to the point where the military authorities are now in a position to make a decision.

Pandit Nehru and his powerful Hindu associates, even though in jail, are friendly to the allies and hostile to the Japanese. But Indian spokesmen in the United States sound the alarm that should the British did in prison the influence which these leaders wield on the nationalists would be increased.

As a result, a wave of fanaticism and racial hatred may engulf the country. Subhas Bose, the agitator who is now in London, has a multitude of followers in Bengal, his native province. If the restraining hand of the moderates is removed, this region may break into rebellion, bringing disaster to us because most of our troops are quartered in the region.

TRACK MEET FOR RURALS DROPPED

Members of the Twin Falls County Teachers' association voted to cancel the annual county grade school track meet for this year at a meeting held Saturday in the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Mrs. Bernice Strader, county superintendent, said the move was dictated by tire and gasoline rationing, and that a series of district meets in different parts of the county would take the place of the county elimination meet, which are usually followed by the county track meet at Twin Falls on Easter.

District meets will be competitive among schools close together, so as to reduce travel to a minimum.

The principal speaker on the program was Miss Rita Hanson, Boise state elementary school supervisor, and talked principally on means of improving teaching technique and schoolroom environment.

She complimented Twin Falls elementary school teachers and supervisors for a "campy" visit to seven schools Thursday and Friday, in company with Mrs. Strader and other members of the association.

Mrs. Strader thanked the teachers for their help in the registration book No. 2, and the teachers also listened to the reading of a letter from Bert A. Sargent, county service member of the Twin Falls county ration board. He said credit was given to the teachers and supervisors of the county for their cooperation in the program, which was a real contribution to the county.

Part-time teachers attended the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Hanson, principal of the Marion school and president of the association.

Red Cross Raises $6,113 in First Five Days of Campaign

The Twin Falls Red Cross war drive ended its first five days Saturday evening with $6,113 already collected in a campaign of increasing intensity. It was announced by Dr. Charles R. Scott, fund chairman. The final total is $20,000.

The chairman said that three 100 per cent teams all over the county contributed to the drive. They are the Kinney Hardware company, the Landreth Seed company, and the Northrup Seed company.

"Although there is yet much of the presidential district to be reported, Dr. Scott said the response in that area is terrific.

"One residential area which yielded $1 last year has reported $250 this year," he said.

Dr. Scott pointed out that the total amount reported last night does not include $425 secured at a program at Murtaugh high school Friday night, under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Truitt, war fund chairman for the Murtaugh Red Cross branch.

It was made by Dr. Scott, who was accompanied to the meeting by Young and Young, chairman of the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter.

The campaign chairman last night reported that the drive is continuing with the progress of the drive, but still unhappy at the way collections have been received in some quarters.

"The success of the drive so far is encouraging," he said, "and particularly in the number of persons who have given very substantially, some as much as $100.00. On the other hand, it is very discouraging to discover that our endeavor to tell the story of the services of the Red Cross has evidently failed to reach many persons of substantial means who are contributing so very little."

RED CROSS SALE SHOWS $425 NET

MURTAUGH, March 6.—Enthusiastic bidding Friday night brought a net of $425 when a large crowd of Murtaugh citizens met in the high school auditorium for a Red Cross rally and auction sale.

Dr. C. R. Scott, war fund chairman for the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter, was principal speaker with Frank L. Cook, chairman of the Twin Falls chapter, in attendance.

A lamp going for $19 brought the highest amount with coffee selling at 45¢ a pound and a winter pig, when crowd, brought $25. W. J. Hollenbeck cried the sale.

Carry Both Cards, Registrants Told

In order to comply with selective service requirements, a registrant must carry his card with him at all times, however, and return his card promptly if he changes his local board of any change in family status or occupation which might have a bearing on his classification, and, when ordered, to report for examination and induction.

Freedom From Want

GOOD HEALTH IS WHAT YOU WANT. You may have all the worldly possessions, and POOR health will be just too bad for you. And yet you may not have a chance that you will go to a doctor that WILL give you the proper kind of treatment and become O. K. Every day there are people at my office for their good health and the best of it is they get just what they are after, in good measure, not just enough so they can say that they feel better, but after a short time they are free from pain and disease. You ask, How do we accomplish such good work? We remove the cause, which is pressure on nerves. Nature does the healing and soon you are a well happy person. Such conditions as SINUS trouble, headaches, nervousness, rheumatism, arthritis and rheumatism take a longer series of treatments, BUT they get well also. Pains and aches are relieved from all parts of your body. Expense is small and results are great. You have the freedom to get GOOD HEALTH—it's up to you, better act now and postpone the appointment with the undertaker. A distorted, crooked body cannot do the work as well as one that is straight, or in other words, in "proper alignment." We take wrecks of bodies, fix them up so that they will work, play and enjoy life. Better still, do not wait until they get that bad, come in today. This is the place.

CHURCH RELAXING FASTING ORDERS

The Roman Catholic church is relaxing today its fast on fasting and abstinence throughout the nation, because of rationing and wartime conditions.

The relaxation varied according to sectional conditions. But generally Catholics can eat meat whenever they get it, except on major fast days: Fridays, Ash Wednesday and Holy Saturday, during Lent, and Dec. 24, the vigil of Christmas.

Archbishops and bishops found papal authority for the relaxation under an indulgent extended by Pope Pius XII on Dec. 19, 1941.

May Eat Meat on Friday

Bishop Edmund P. Gibbons, Albany, N. Y., directed ten old Catholics under his jurisdiction to eat meat on Fridays, and abstain only on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday.

A spokesman for Archbishop Michael J. Curley, Washington-Dulles archdiocese, said, however, that Lenten regulations had already been issued and would not be changed there. They prescribe eating of meat on Fridays and days of fast and abstinence, except where special dispensation is granted.

Archbishop Joseph Francis Huron, New Orleans, said there was a question of Catholics in his archdiocese being allowed meat on Fridays. "That's a question of being able to obtain meat any time. Plenty of seafood.

He said plenty of seafood was available in New Orleans, and there was no need of him to issue a dispensation, such as Bishop Gibbons had issued.

A dispensation for Catholics in New York and Newark, N. J., was expected to be read in churches tomorrow.

Some clergy members of Catholics to perform voluntary penances, such as abstinence from liquor.

Americans Go on a Raid in Tunisia

During an allied raid on German-Italian positions in Tunisia, equipment like this U. S. half-track, mounting a heavy gun, and the speedy jeep in the foreground (top) proved tough and mobile. Below: Guarded by American soldiers with fixed bayonets, a long line of German and Italian prisoners marches to the rear after the Soud raid.

Intermountain West Has Had Face Lifted Since War Began

BOISE, March 6.—When Johnny Doughboy comes home from the range, someone better meet him at the station or he may not recognize the old town.

For since the war began the Intermountain West has had its face lifted. The clear air of the wide-open spaces is cloudy with the dust of defense projects and military camps and the smoke of war industry.

Just as examples of new industries, and not some complete non-representative list, there would be listed a new steel plant at Provo, Utah; a navy gun refining plant at Pocatello; a naval training station at Bayview; a mammoth new army air base at Mountain Home. Not quite in the same class—since it points primarily to the years after the war—is the big Anderson ranch near Boise, but it too is altering the family landscape.

Project Changes Life

Each project has had or is having its own construction period, with its rush of workers, sky-rocking prices, trailer camps and crowded streets and restaurants. At night times any native son returning home would have a hard time finding his way to the quiet community he left behind.

Then comes the occupation period, with the new residents taking over impressively new structures and facilities and making new changes—either by their uniforms, by their demanding routine as whistle blow and engine clank or by their sheer numbers.

And then, what's the final stage to be?

Land of Wide Open Spaces

The Intermountain states have always been primarily producers of raw materials. Tucked between the thriving Midwest and the bustling Pacific Coast, they were lands of wide-open spaces, dude ranches, sheep wagons, camp fires and rodeos.

Now there are springing up new heavy industrial plants, new distribution facilities, new important communication links and utility installations. With them are coming new conceptions of boom days ahead.

Gov. C. A. Battefen, in a Lincoln day address at Portland, Ore., foresaw a great new industrialized future for the Intermountain states and the northwest.

Ser's Influx of Population

"We can surely expect a great influx of population from other sections of the United States," he said, "for all of the sections of our country, none offers greater future opportunities."

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and son, Jimmy, Stanfield, Ore., arrived for a visit with Smith's mother, Mrs. Elsie and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Kerby arrived from Pocatello, Utah, and visited with Mrs. Kerby's mother, Mrs. Elsie Brookbank. They will move soon to a farm near Gooding.

2 POMONAS HOLD RUPERT SESSION

RUPERT, March 6.—A joint meeting of Cassia and Minidoka county Pomona Grange was held at the Odd Fellows hall here with John Wilson, master of Cassia Pomona, and his officers presiding.

The Grange were recorded as favoring equalization of school funds, the inclusion of labor costs in computing parity prices and the inclusion of the county in Pacific time zone for the duration of the war.

Grange Furrows

By J. R. CRAWFORD

Well, here we are, back on the old stamping ground, and it looks like a special dispensation on the part of the weather man, for seldom have I seen a nicer March 1 than we had. And the country looks just as good as ever after a sojourn in the salt flats at Wendover. Good old Uncle Sam chose such a place for an air field, for it is surely no place for anything else.

That cooperation pays is evidenced by the steady growth of the Jerome Co-operative Creamery. This farmer owned concern has seen a steady increase in volume and as shown by the report of Manager Roy Smith, the amount of business or rather the amount of business handled has increased five million pounds and over were delivered to the various branches during the past year. This represented an increase of nine per cent over the year 1941. And a peculiar thing and one that presages no good for the consumer, is the fact that this increase fell within the first half of the year, the last half of the year showing a steady decline and being very sharp during the last two months of the year.

Wide Trend

If this condition were confined to the region served by the creamery alone, it might not be a cause for alarm. But we are told that the same trend is observed throughout the dairy communities of the nation and an acute shortage of dairy foods will be felt all over the country from now on till the end of the war.

There is no question but that this shortage will be reflected in the prices and in the quality of the milk. We have heard of the resistance to disease on the part of children. The vitamins found in dairy foods are those most valuable for child growth.

Another thing that makes for dairy food shortage is the vast amounts of these foods that the government is demanding. For this year 30 per cent of all butter, 50 per cent of all cheese and 90 per cent of all skim milk is required for the use of the armed forces and our allies, so these amounts of the foods named are earmarked for the government. In addition the processors are asked to curtail the manufacture of ice cream by 25 per cent and the dairy cream cones are going to be scarce, and the milk nickels may be only a memory.

Also, without adequate help the dairy farmer will not be in position to give his cows the attention that makes for maximum production per cow. The future looks altogether bleak.

To make blueprint paper on which to draw plans for one 25,000-ton batch requires 20,000 pounds of rag content bond.

Butch is on a BALANCED DIET!

THIS situation isn't covered by Army regulations. But we're betting that Butch will find a way to handle it without spilling a spoonful!

In fact, we electric companies know just how he feels. We have the same problem. Right now, we're being called on to balance good service and low, regulated rates against fast-climbing costs and tremendous increased demands for electric power.

We're doing it, too. Filling all our war orders. Giving America far more power than all the Axis countries combined. Pushing production up and up. . . And besides that, we're balancing a big plate of taxes.

Don't get us wrong. We know the need of heavy wartime taxes. We're proud that business-managed electric companies paid $620,000,000 in taxes last year. That was 23¢ out of every dollar you paid us—8¢ to local and state governments—15¢ to the federal government—enough to outfit 1,687,762 buck privates like Butch.

How is it possible to make so much power and meet so many taxes at the same time? Because of sound business methods and long experience—because, trained men, women and management worked together as a team.

But while we're doing all this, government and municipal power systems are not paying a penny in federal taxes to help win the war.

Shouldn't every one do his full share?

Mended Hose for 1943, Is Solution of War Shortage

by GRACE ARNE
CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 6 (AP)—Hemphill about a year ago when he was saying "the war shortage of hose is a real problem." "Why, of course, I'll wear cotton stockings—I have 'em." So, of course, most of us mended our stockings on silk and nylon.

In several cities, the police had to untangle us when "silly" old men "mended" their hose only 3,000 pairs left.

But, what with one thing and another, we still presenting to the world an unbroken line from ankle to knee. The veterans among us are stopping at hoseless corners to look at cotton hose, and saying "They're real, quite fine. This isn't bad."

Well, the bitter truth doesn't include those fine cotton stockings—unmended for all of us. Some time this year, depending on what we have gotten away from the front, we'll be wearing rayon hose with mended runs in the legs—mended in the office, to dinner, Dark, jagged mends.

I've just talked to gullible and cunning "mender" Darius, expert mender of the southern hoseless factories. He seems to have all the statistics and logic on his side. "He says it takes 43 million dozen pairs of hose to cover the legs of the ladies of America in normal years."

This past year, 1942, the war production board released only enough rayon yarn to make 25 millions dozen pairs.

And that's in silk or rayon yarn. The cotton hose ordeal was just a pleasant dream. There isn't enough cotton yarn left enough for the hosiery machines—and no way to make more of it. So we'll get just about the same amount of cotton hose that always were made.

It all adds up to one thing: This year, unless the silk worms of Japan figure out some way to swim the Pacific and crawl ashore at Monterey, Calif., we'll be getting pairs of hose just every 43 pairs. We'll be getting our old hose, mended thought were our old hose.

The only solution is to mend those runs, put on an extra dole of hose, and suffer by the drug store rowboys with a "wiper smile off your face" plant in the eye.

GOODING TO HOLD SCHOOL TAX POLL

GOODING, March 6—At a special election set for Saturday, March 13, Gooding residents will vote on a special four mill levy for the general school fund. If the vote is favorable the total levy for the year 1943-44 will be 17.5 mills. This will be a reduction of three mills from the 20.5 which has been levied for the past four years.

The anticipated levy would be divided as follows: 12 mills for general fund; three mills for transportation and 2.5 mills for sinking fund. The former division was voted about the middle of the month. The chamber will hold its annual election of officers following the regular Rotary meeting.

Rotary Will Fete C. of C. Members

SHOSHONIE, March 6—The Rotary club held its monthly business meeting at the Legion Memorial building with Frank Kelley in charge.

Plans were made to have members of the Chamber of Commerce as guests at an evening meeting about the middle of the month. The chamber will hold its annual election of officers following the regular Rotary meeting.

Retired Bonds

The reduction in the sinking fund levy has been made possible by the financial program set up by the board in 1928-29 through which the $30,000 bond issue for the junior high building was retired last July 1 and a $60,000 issue on one of the old buildings will be retired April 1. After April 1 the bonded debt will have been cut to $14,000, bearing three per cent interest. This will be paid off at the rate of $600 per year.

Since money cannot be transferred from one fund to another, and since any general levy in excess of eight mills must be voted each year by the district voters, it was necessary to call a special election. School bonds have been on the initiative for several years in all districts. In order to meet the increases anticipated for next year it will be necessary to have more money for the general fund.

Wald Ralston $10,000
It is expected that the four mills will raise an additional $10,000 which will make it possible to meet the increase in operating expenses without cutting the school program. Unless the special tax is voted it will be necessary to make one of the following possible cuts in the school program: Eliminating two or more teachers by increasing the size of classes; replacing teachers who resign with lower-salary teachers; closing the lunchroom; eliminating vocational home economics and agriculture, music, dramatics, etc.; those subjects which are not required for college entrance; reducing expenditures on buildings and grounds or cutting the length of the school year to seven or eight months.

Winston-Salem, N. C., leads all southern cities except Baltimore, Md., in value of its factory products.
